Papua New Guinea is home to more than 800 distinct languages — one of the most linguistically diverse places on Earth — with each community carrying its own songs and traditions. Rather than represent any single one of these many cultures, this lullaby offers a gentle, original tribute to the country's shared natural beauty: its rainforests, rivers, and remarkable birdlife.

Original lullaby inspired by Papua New Guinea's landscape and biodiversity, offered as a general and respectful tribute. Not a translation of any specific community's traditional lullaby.
